Period for Reply

A SHORTENED STATUTORY PERIOD FOR REPLY IS SET TO EXPIRE 3 MONTH(S) OR THIRTY (30) DAYS, WHICHEVER IS LONGER, FROM THE MAILING DATE OF THIS COMMUNICATION.

- Extensions of time may be available under the provisions of 37 CFR 1.136(a). In no event, however, may a reply be timely filed after SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- If NO period for reply is specified above, the maximum statutory period will apply and will expire SIX (6) MONTHS from the mailing date of this communication.
- Failure to reply within the set or extended period for reply will, by statute, cause the application to become ABANDONED (35 U.S.C. § 133). Any reply received by the Office later than three months after the mailing date of this communication, even if timely filed, may reduce any earned patent term adjustment. See 37 CFR 1.704(b).

Status

- 1) ☒ Responsive to communication(s) filed on 03 October 2005.
- 2a) ☒ This action is FINAL. 2b) ☐ This action is non-final.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 9 and 12 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In claim 9, there is no structure that provides a basis for the recitation of a "diameter" of the support hook.

In claim 12, there is no antecedent basis for "each opposing side wall".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1,3-5 and 7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Michaud.

Fig. 3 shows a hook h,i,j, and a body B having a bottom wall, side walls, an aperture through which the hook extends, and protrusions f that contact the hook.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1 and 3-7 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Vosbikian in view of Willits, Jr.

In Vosbikian, see body 1, apertures 7,8,9, (at the bottom thereof), protrusions 6, walls 4, bottom wall 5 and slots 7,8,9, (in the side walls 4). The limitations concerning the body configured to support a shelf, having slots for supporting a shelf, configured to engage a standard, etc., are merely functional recitations of which the bracket of Vosbikian is capable of achieving. Further, see hook 11. What are not shown are the protrusions. However, Willits discloses a hook mounted in an aperture and firmly held in place by engagement between the hook and protrusions 56,57. It would have been obvious to: (1) modify Vosbikian whereby his channels are shallower so that protrusions 6 firmly engage the hook portion 10 when the hook has been put in place; or (2) provide protrusions in the channel so as to engage the hook portion 10 to firmly hold the hook, both scenarios as suggested by Willits.

Claims 8,9,12-15 and 20-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Great Britain 1,291,401.

See hook 4,5,6, which has a middle portion 4 that appears to be in the range of 120-150 degrees from the upper, horizontal portion, such being an obvious modification to be determined so as to provide the optimum support arrangement. See also semicylindrical portion 6, and bracket 1 having an aperture 2 that has converging walls that form protrusions. Claim 9 is met as best understood. Further, a cylindrical shaped hook upper portion and corresponding cylindrical channel for receipt thereof is clearly an obvious variant of the dove-tail connection shown.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 10 and 11 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments have been considered but are moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
